Headmaster's Address 2006

If our first Headmaster, Thomas Waddington, were to visit us today, he would find enormous changes at Saltus. Technology has transformed the world we live in, and the school that he began with only 35 students in 1888 would be unrecognizable with almost a thousand students, two developing campuses, the splendid Gosling Centre and the new Foundation Year accommodation at Cavendish.

Once he began to speak with the students he would find himself very much on familiar ground however. He would find in them the same hopes and aspirations, as well as the same uncertainties, doubts and fears, which he found in students of his day. Surroundings change, the nature of some of the problems change, but those human qualities of character and spirit necessary to overcome them do not, and he would feel very much at home with an educational process that continues to prepare students in mind, body and spirit to meet the many challenges that lie ahead.

The focal point of any school is, of course, the students, and they play perhaps the most important role in producing the school of which we can all be justifiably proud.

There is an old saying, and we would do well to remember it, that a man – or woman – is judged by the company he or she keeps. We can adapt that to schools and say that a school is inevitably judged by the caliber of the students it produces and by their later performance in the adult community. All have the potential in future years to make a notable contribution to our society and no doubt most of them will do so in their various ways. When they do, they will honour those who have preceded them and the school that has guided them in their formative years.

I would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge the contribution of one such former student, Mr. Wendell Hollis, the Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Earlier this year, Mr. Hollis indicated to the members of the board and the staff of the school that this was to be his final year as Chairman and that he would step down in order that he may dedicate more time to his family and to his professional life. I wish to thank him for his energy and commitment. The changes that are currently underway in all areas of the school owe much to Mr. Hollis' vision and his dedication to Saltus.

I commend the members of editorial team of "The Martlet" for another very fine yearbook. It offers a splendid memory of a busy and enjoyable year in the life of our school.

N.J.G. Kermode
Headmaster

From the Desk of the Deputy Head...

I would like to break with tradition this year by allocating my space in the yearbook to the words of another. I was privileged to attend the SGY Graduation Ceremony at the Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity in June. There, our Head Boy, Andrew Masters, who joined the school at the age of 5, delivered to the assembled congregation a speech which every member of the Saltus family should have the opportunity to become familiar with since, for me, it captured the true essence and spirit of Saltus as reflected in the pages which follow.

Malcolm Durrant

"Today marks a turning point in our lives as young adults. This milestone of graduating with a high school education has come at last. And yet, knowledge does not exist solely in scholarly facts, but more so in the relationships and friendships that we have forged along the way. Albert Schweitzer once said, 'At times our own light goes out and is rekindled by a spark from another person. Each of us has cause to think with deep gratitude of those who have lighted the flame within us.' As I look at the graduating class of 2006, I am reminded of the unique gifts each one of us has to offer the world. We are artists, dancers, mechanics, comedians, singers, musicians, and athletes. We are dreamers, believers, thinkers, and doers. We are strong-minded, determined, truth-seeking, hardworking, and compassionate. But who showed us the way along our journey, and how do we know if we are staying the course? Family has and always will be one of the most important things in our lives. Look around this cathedral and take in the love and support that our parents, friends, teachers and administrators are showing for us by sharing with us this special day. Here at Saltus, parents and teachers have had an unspoken agreement of joint custody for years. Whether that be tucking us into our bed at night, or tucking us into our desk in the morning. We will never forget the words of encouragement. I will always remember Mr. Beard's, '10 to 9 troops. Let's get ready to work'; or Mrs. DeSilva's, 'It takes many hands to build a house but many hearts to make a school.' I don't have to think hard to remember the sound of bikes roaring away at the end of the day. What do you think of? Do you remember what it was like to walk through these hallways as first years, staring up wide-eyed at the seemingly huge seniors? And do you remember what it was like to walk into school at the beginning of this year and chuckle at the kids whose heads come up to your knees? Some of these memories we will remember, and some we will be happy to forget. We have all shared in this journey together, and now we embark on our own, to find out what life has in store for us. Our futures are uncharted and could change each time new frontiers present themselves. Are we ready to take on the challenges and responsibilities that lie ahead? We all know that the future can be unpredictable, even downright scary. But it isn't until we truly realize that sometimes, in order to face our fears, it can be as easy as turning a page. Having the courage to be the person you are and want to be. Saltus has given each of us equal opportunity to take the next step. It's like when you've spent an academic year taking a course where you know there will be a test at the end. But when the teacher drops the exam paper on that table and you're faced with that ominous front cover. It all comes down to whether you turn that page with self-assurance... or drop your pencil, flip the paper over, and lean back in your chair. Saltus has given us the foundation, and now it's up to us to build on it. Whether you loved it, or just powered through it, Saltus is a place that none of us will forget, for the memories I, and all of us have made, are ones that we'll laugh about, cry about, dream about, and never ever forget. And so I would like to congratulate the Saltus Senior School SGY graduating class of 2006, and I thank you for all the memories."

HERITAGE HUNT 2005-2006

Written by: Torrae Wainwright

Let me start with the question you'll probably be asking right now. What exactly is the Heritage Hunt? Well, the Heritage Hunt is when students must familiarize themselves with Bermuda, and its fascinating history, from Sandys to St. Georges. Nearly every Primary School took part, not to mention, teachers, students and parents.

First, we had to read the clues and research the information. Once the place was located, we had to travel to the location and search for the clue card, record our schools I.D. Code and then send it to Mrs. Shaw. Mrs. Shaw then e-mailed the code to the organizers. Some of the questions I remember were, 'This location was once called 'Grouper Grotto'. (The Devil's Hole), 'In this Grand House, 100lbs of honey was once discovered'. (The Government house), 'This is the oldest school in the original Heron Bay'. (Warwick Academy)

The hardest thing about the Heritage Hunt was when we had to get an idea of what the clue may be about, then having to research the information, go to the location and search and search for the clue card all day, leave disappointed because we couldn't find it, and find out we had the right place but the card had been moved. Basically everything!

Then came the Prize Presentation, which was held at the Bermuda Annual Exhibition (the first day), in the main ring of the Botanical Gardens. The top three schools; B.H.S, Gilbert Institute and Saltus, gathered to hear how they placed. Gilbert came third, B.H.S. came second and Saltus came in first place!! Everyone received a prize and we won a Mac Mini Computer.

It was very special when we won, because we started late and had a lot of catching up to do. So, not only did we start late and catch up, but we won the whole competition! GO SALTUS!

Before the Spring break, 29 J6 students travelled through time and space as they covered almost 400 years of history in just six days. Their time machine (coach) took them back to 1607 and the first English settlement in North America at Jamestown. They boarded sailing ships, visited the fort and Native American village, and watched craftsmen at work.

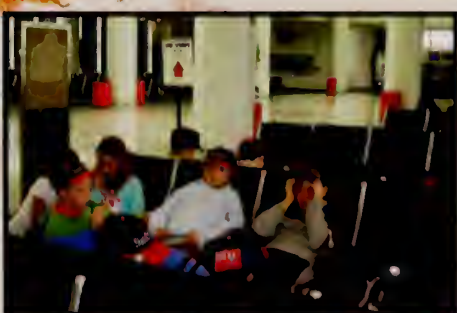

The second day saw the travellers jump forward in time some 150 years to visit Colonial Williamsburg; where they visited numerous shops, the jail, and the Governors Palace. In the afternoon students experienced the village and encampment of the Colonial Army and also the battlefield of Yorktown, the last dramatic conflict of the American revolution.

The historians arrived in Washington D.C. the next day to visit some of the monuments, memorials and museums. The Air and Space Museum was certainly a popular attraction, where students saw many exhibits including touching the moon and experiencing walking on the moon by watching a 3-D movie at the Imax theater.

The weary and very busy group of travellers then took a side trip to the Baltimore Aquarium before returning to Bermuda, where a large group of parents and family welcomed the time travellers home.

Music Report

It has been another busy year for the junior music department. Christmas is always hectic and as usual, the J6&7 choir went to St. George's to participate in the national trust Christmas Walkabout on Friday, December 2nd. The choir also sang at Windsor Place. The J6&7 Choir and the Junior Wind band performed at Carols for All. Quite a few junior students participated in the junior department's Christmas production of the Nutcracker. The J4&5 choir as well as a few J6&7 choir members sang the songs for the show. The Junior Wind Band performed for the Cavendish assembly on March 3rd and all of the students enjoyed watching the teachers do their own interpretation of Limbo Rock! As usual the third term was crazy, perhaps even more so due to our department losing two year groups. On May 26th, the junior Wind Band, J4&5 Choir and J5, 6&7 Recorder groups performed at the 3 department concert in Victoria Park. The end of the year Junior Music Concert was held on June 7th and featured the choirs, all recorder groups, wind band and orchestra. We had a special guest as Mrs. Maule's brother-in-law came to play the trombone for the wind band. The J6's had a special music assembly on Monday, June 19th and the J7's had their assembly on Wednesday, June 21st. The J5&6 Recorder Group played for the Prep. 3's visit to the junior school on Friday, June 16th. The 3's were very interested in the large, treble recorder. The orchestra played for the Prep 2 visit to the junior school on Monday, June 19th and were kept busy right until the last day of school as they played for Prize Day.

FINAL WORD

•There are many people who helped us throughout the year, and the Junior Department would like to thank you all.

•Likewise, due to digital photography, there are an increasing number of contributors to the pictures you see in this section of the year book and I would like to thank them for their expertise. I must especially thank Cynthia Barnes for her archival material without which much would pass unrecorded.

For the first time Saltus Junior School will have two year groups leaving and two year groups arriving. The P2 and P3 years will join us as S3 and S4 whilst the J6 and J7 year groups will leave us to become part of the Senior School as S7 and S8. This has necessitated three members of staff leaving the Junior Department and joining the Senior Department: Mr. Tyler Hall, Mrs. Daltonell Minors and Mrs. Carolyn Conway. We wish them well in their new venture and their varied and many contributions to the Junior Department will be greatly missed.

•Mr. O'Brien Osborne is leaving us to pursue other avenues and we wish him every success in whatever course his future life takes him.

•Mrs. Katrina Dobson has had to leave after many years, but she is not going far having been snapped up by B.H.S. and I am sure her many contributions to the Saltus Science Department will be missed.

Junior and Cavendish students responded with generosity to a request from Saltus alumna Meghan Jones who was teaching at a primary school in Tanzania. The students and their families are very poor and for many it is a struggle to arrive equipped with an exercise book and pen or to pay their school fees of $5.00 per year. Together students in the Junior Department and at Cavendish responded to Meghan's call and raised an amazing $3,512.06. The cheque was presented to Meghan's parents along with letters written by Junior students to the students at Mrupanga School.

TB Cancer &
Health Charity

During the past year, funds have been raised for a variety of worthwhile causes including Hurricane Katrina victims, earthquake victims in Pakistan, children and others in need in India through "Privilege Sharing," children in Botswana and Tanzania, children suffering with cancer, improved breast cancer detection equipment, diabetes, toys for local children at Christmas, PALS, St John Ambulance Brigade and the Multiple Sclerosis Society. In addition, books have been donated to the Sunshine League and public schools, food has been collected for distribution locally by "Hands of Love," and children's clothes sent to "Privilege Sharing."

On the penultimate day of the summer term, there was a Grub Day in the Junior and Senior Departments with the $1,145 collected going to the Ewan Sampson Scholarship Trust (ESST). Ewan was in the SGY Class of '98 and died just before graduation.

Modern Foreign Languages Trip

29 students had the experience of a lifetime visiting Montreal and Quebec for the Winter Carnival from 9th to 15th February. They tried out a range of winter sports, from tubing, sledding to skiing and snow boarding. Ms. Abada, Mrs. Gibbons, Miss O'Grady, and Mr. Finch managed not to lose anyone.

One of the highlights was the dog sledding activity, which was a great deal of fun. Mr. Finch found this especially enjoyable.

The Notre Dame Basilica in Montreal and The Ice Hotel were incredible! The insectarium was amazing – we thought the roaches here were huge! And it is so amazing that carmine red is made from crushed insects that have eaten cacti.....

In the Biodome everybody got fond of the penguins; especially Ms. Abada.

Despite the fact that we, teachers and students, all experienced extremely cold weather everybody came back with fond memories of their time in Canada.

Rag Week 2006

The annual Senior Department "Rag Week" involves a variety of events and competitions held over several days the last week of the Spring term during which funds are raised for charity. Senior History Head, Ms. Rachel Hucker, introduced the concept of a Rag Week to the students via School Council during the 1999-2000 academic year. Over the years, Ms. Hucker estimates that Senior students have raised over $22,000 for a variety of local and overseas charities.

Each year money is presented to three charities, one in Bermuda, one overseas and the annual support of Jefferson Perez, a child in Ecuador sponsored through "Children International." The local and overseas charities were chosen by the Senior student body who voted through School Council representatives. This year Bermuda's "St. John Ambulance Brigade" was chosen as the local charity, and the "Mahala Orphanage and Day Care Centre" in Botswana was chosen as the overseas charity (this day care centre is located near where the "Bermuda Overseas Mission Botswana 2005" built houses last summer helped by students from Saltus, CedarBridge, BHS and Somersfield).

"Rag Week" highlights this year included: a sponsored "Silent Read;" preliminary and final "Saltus Idol" competitions; a Grub Day ("Mud Match" theme); and a wide range of "Silly Sports" on the final day. S11 student Rebecca Dickson produced a Rag Mag full of jokes, competitions and silly pictures which raised over $200. In addition to fundraising activities during "Rag Week," the Senior Modern Foreign Languages Department held a sponsored Spelling Bee in April donating half their proceeds to the "Rag Week" charities.

This year a whopping $4,830.96 was raised. Children International will receive $250 for the annual support of Jefferson Perez, and the remainder has been split between the St. John Ambulance Brigade and the Mahalapye Orphanage and Day Care Centre.

Rogue Traders

Saltus Rogue Traders (SRT's) and the KPMG Investment Challenge

This school year saw the SRT's finish fourth from twelve and narrowly missing the third place prize in a competition which challenged the investment wits of students from all seven of Bermuda's senior schools.

Run as an extra-curricular activity by Mr. Young the team comprised of Nicholas Rinehimer, Rebecca Dickson, Adam Kiki-Charles, Jason Mann, Alex Jack, James Gilmour, Eoin McMahon and Erik Pearson. The challenge given to the team was to invest $50,000 in the stock markets and compete with the other teams to make the highest return on the investment. At the end of the challenge the SRT's increased their portfolio value by $7,500, an impressive fifteen percent and just $850 short of third place and $4,000.

Look out for next year's opportunity to join the team and compete for the first prize of $10,000

Duke of Edinburgh

Very successful year for the Bronze Award Scheme – 28 participants successfully completed the award. Most if not all of these have expressed an interest in going on to complete the Silver Award next year. All of the participants worked very well in their teams – Philip Bergquist fell ill during the walk and was helped to Albuys Point by the rest of his team – Michael, Collin, Piers, Matthew. Camping on Darrell Island was great fun – the whole Island to ourselves. Cooking on stoves and camp fire. I really enjoyed the experience and was impressed with the maturity of all groups. Many thanks for all of the parental support I received – might need some help next year as Duke of Edinburgh's popularity increases.

The Comenius Astronomy Project connects students all over the world! Schools from the countries of Turkey, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Spain, and of course Bermuda, are able to send each other pen pal letters concerning their daily lives through this program!

The Saltus Comenius Astronomy group participates in activities ranging from the artistic to the scientific. We have:

- Made a comet out of smelling salts (yuck!), Worcester sauce, dry ice (fun!), and mud.
- Created photograms
- Learned about myths and legends and how they relate to astronomy
- Produced water rockets
- Drank Turkish sour apple flavored tea!
- And lastly, learned about great astronomers (such as Miss O'Grady!)

The Comenius Astronomy Project is an international astronomy program linking schools around the globe with the purpose of educating today's youth on all things astronomical.

Astronomy Club offers activities for every interest. Unleash your inner artist or scientist and come join us!

Debate Society

Debate over 2005- 2006

Debating is an excellent way to improve a variety of extremely valuable skills. Debaters learn to express themselves with clarity and cogency as well as learning how to discuss in a persuasive manner, without just shouting. Members of the Debate Society also gain extra confidence, particularly in regards to speaking in front of groups of people. Students also learn skills that help them with essay-writing tasks, because they learn how to structure an argument and how to select only the relevant material. Teamwork is another important part of effective debating. Debating is not just for the outgoing talkers of the school, there are also a variety of roles which don't involve getting up in front of people and talking; for example timing a chairing the floor.

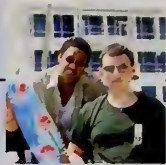

The Debate Society have had an action packed year: participating in the annual Junior Service League National Debate Championship in November where Blake Sonnenfeld won the 'Best Middle School Debater' award. There has also been a busy schedule of intra school debates which included topics ranging from "This house believes that Physical Education in schools should not be compulsory," to "This house would require human would-be parents to be licensed before having children." These parliamentary style debates give a range of students and staff the chance to participate. The practice of debating involves not only those six students who get up and argue their case but a structured debate also needs a timer, a speaker of the house and members of the floor (the audience) who are also given the opportunity to voice their opinions and ask questions.

In October of 2006 the Debate Team will travel to Toronto Canada to compete in the International Independent Schools Public Speaking Competition where they will get the opportunity to learn a number of new public speaking techniques and debate against a range of experienced debaters from across North America. The Debate Society has undertaken a range of fund raising activities of the summer term including two car and bike washes as well as the End of Year Dance for the year eights and nines. All in all a very successful year! Hopefully September will see most of the old faces back as well as a large number of new recruits!

Saltus Island

Saltus Island is a woodland management project, developed in partnership with The Bermuda National Trust. Saltus Island, located in Soney Bay, Hamilton Harbour is an uninhabited 3.2 acre island. The Island originally belonged to Richard Norwood, the Mayor, and following the death of Richard's daughter, it was passed to Samuel Saltus, the founder of Saltus Grammar School.

Each year, with money from the UK Government the project has been able to purchase a small boat, a saw and many endemic trees. Some of the invasive Casuarina trees have been cut down and over 50 endemic and native trees have been planted during the school year.

"SO YOU HAD A BAD DAY..."

From the Advisor's

desk

It's been an exciting year! Whilst I am not new to the Martlet, I have found the position of Advisor challenging and rewarding at the same time. I am hopeful that the transition from Nicole Mathias to me has been seamless.

There have been some changes to the appearance of this year's book and you probably have noticed it is 100% colour. This allows all departments to be equal and I think enhances the Martlet's overall appearance. It is also produced completely online and eliminates the waiting of proofs to get through the mail system (or not as the case was sometimes!) As we become more familiar with the digital media, I am optimistic that the arrival of the book will become more timely. We will always endeavor to improve both appearance and content of the Martlet, and I encourage all to contact the relevant Editors with your own ideas and thoughts on how to make the yearbook more lively and enticing. Just be prepared to contribute time as well!

Of course this book could not be completed without the tireless work of our Editors from the three Departments, namely, Amanda Petty of Cavendish, Peter LePage of the Junior School and Student Editor for the Senior School Allison Begeman. They have all spent many outside hours on this project and without them the book could not be produced. I would like to publicly thank and praise them for all their hard work. I also want to personally thank Cynthia Barnes for, without the hundreds of photos she has captured at every major and not-so major event, our book would be very thin and dull indeed.

In addition I would like to acknowledge the following senior students for their contributions to this year's Martlet: Adam Kiki-Charles, Kristen Burgess, Chloe Minors and Taylor DaCosta. Also photograph contributors Manny Faria and Devjin Thomas.

On a final note, this is a book for students and I would encourage all of you to come and be a part of the Yearbook staff. You are, after all, recording your own memories in these pages, so make a contribution you will be proud. We are recording history here that one day, believe it or not, you will treasure as some of the most memorable times in your life. I too turn to our Head Boy Andrew Master's words at this year's graduation, as Malcolm Durrant has in the beginning of this book, and find he captures the reason we record each year in this book: "Whether you loved it, or just powered through it, Saltus is a place that none of us will forget, for the memories I, and all of us have made, are ones that we'll laugh about, cry about, dream about, and never ever forget." I hope you all find great pleasure in reading and re-reading this 2006 Martlet for many years to come!

Fiona Murdoch
